

Fact #9

The Silent Floor

Felt is great on the floor; both aesthetically and functionally.

The material has good acoustic properties and will therefore help to improve the atmosphere in receptions, offices, meeting rooms, etc.

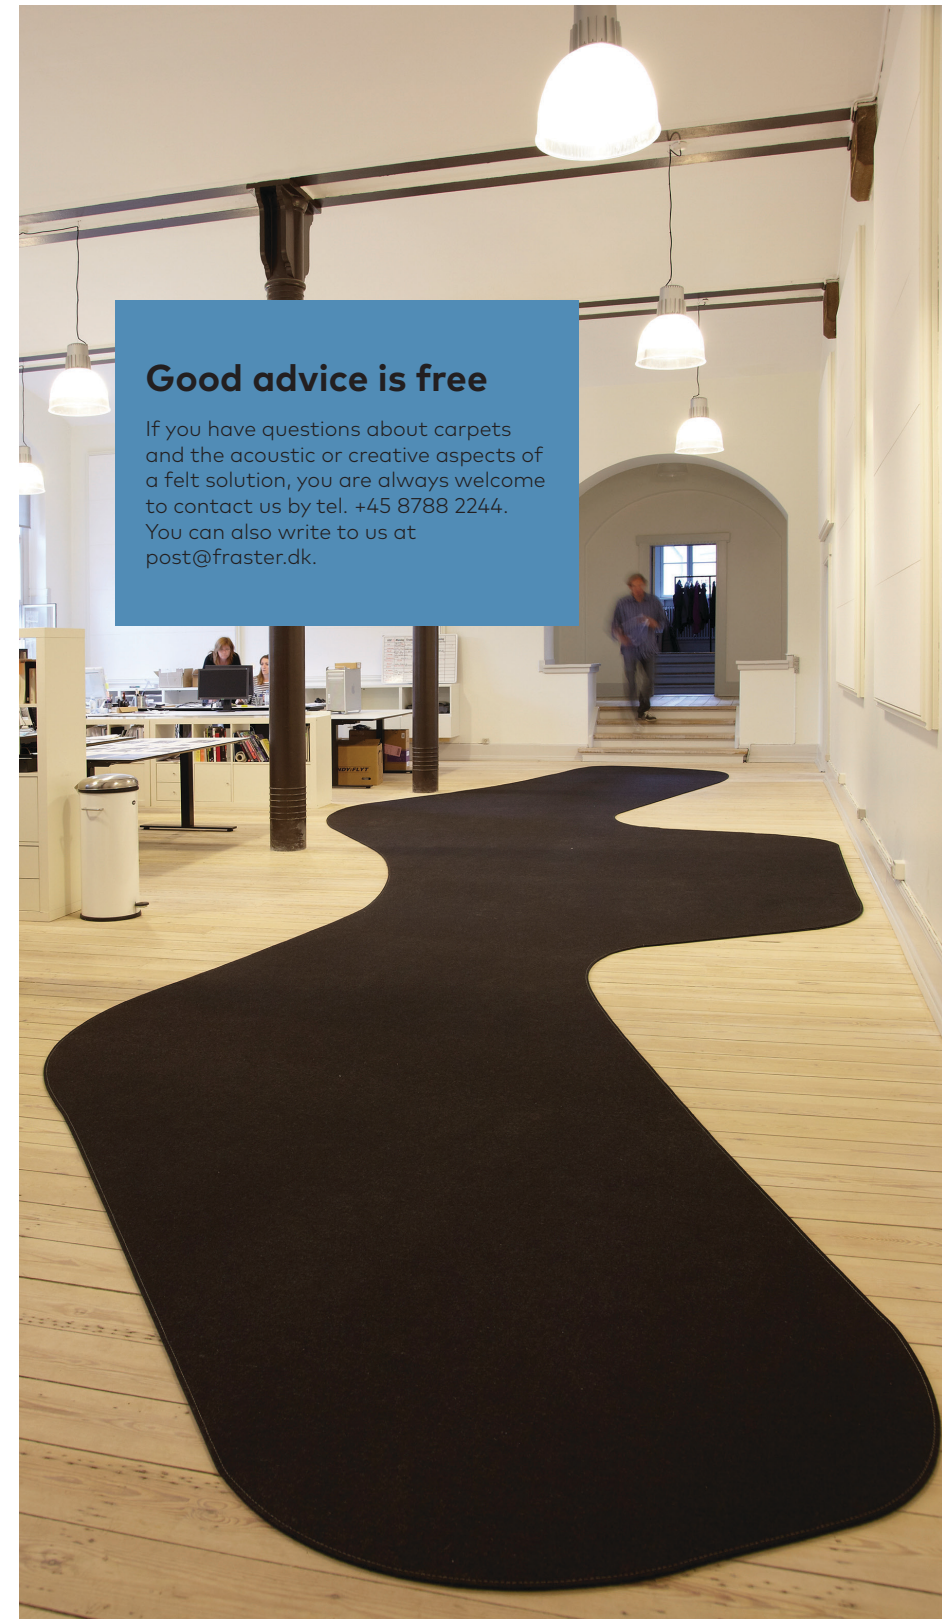

In addition to absorbing the sound from conversations and general room noise, felt carpets insulate the sound of footsteps in a room. This provides a double positive effect, because in addition to acoustic calmness, it prevents you from constantly looking up from your work to see who's walking past.

In short: Effective sound insulation with felt carpets increases both job satisfaction, concentration and productivity in the workplace.

Creativity at floor level

With Fraster you can let your creativity loose - even when it comes to carpets. It is worth noting that this design freedom applies to both the size, shape, colors and pattern.

Genuine wool felt is very tear resistant and will therefore provide clean, durable edges without the need for edge hemming. Conversely, stitching can easily be used as a creative element in a felt carpet's design.
