

Fact #4

Creative sparring for felt

Felt opens up a whole new world of aesthetic and functional possibilities for your interior design solutions. On the floor, on walls, on glass panels on seating surfaces, suspended from the ceiling or as functional furnishing in the form of writing pads, bulletin boards and folding screens, to name a few.

At Fraster, we have tried pretty much everything with felt. Thus, we have extensive experience with the material and know how to utilize its many creative possibilities - and solve the challenges that may arise during the course of an interior design project.

Talk to Trine

You are always welcome to contact our head of design, Trine Neve, if you want qualified sparring for design, functional or technical issues.

Trine is happy to already contribute during the concept phase, and you can draw on her extensive experience and thorough knowledge of wool felt whenever the need arises.
